http://valenciacollege.edu/east/academicsuccess/eap/TheWritersGuide.cfm

Attendance at all scheduled class sessions is expected; valuable assignments are begun or completed in-class. This course includes an online Blackboard component which requires weekly login as well as online paper submission using Safeassign. Students will complete six guided reading activities responding to primary source texts from the late 1600s through the 1800s and take six quizzes on the assigned readings. Students will prepare three assignments showing mastery of primary sources with citations and write three, one to two-page (250-500 word) creative assignments. Students will write two three-page thesis papers (750 words or more), and also write an abstract (250 words) with accompanying interpretation of a text (500 words) as a section of the proposal for our final exam exercise. All papers should be typed in Microsoft Word (or a comparable word processing system) in twelve-point Times New Roman with double-spacing and one inch margins.

Evaluation Process

All writing will be graded for content and organization.

- Highly-organized, consistent papers containing intuitive observations and compelling arguments receive an A.
- Well-organized, consistent papers containing clear observations and logical arguments receive a B.
- Papers with some inconsistencies containing vague observations and/or illogical arguments receive a C.
- Inconsistent papers containing incoherent observations and/or illogical arguments receive a D.
- Incoherent papers or those with no focus receive an F.

Errors in spelling, grammar, and sentence structure can certainly detract from the ease with which the student’s overall ideas are conveyed; therefore, excessive errors, even though not marked by the instructor, may result in significant grade reductions.

By enrolling at Valencia College, a student assumes the responsibility for becoming familiar with and abiding by the general rules of conduct. The primary responsibility for managing the classroom environment rests with the faculty. Students who engage in any prohibited or unlawful acts that result in disruption of a class may be directed by the faculty to leave the class. Violation of any classroom or Valencia’s rules may lead to disciplinary action up to and including expulsion from Valencia. Disciplinary action could include being withdrawn from class, disciplinary warning, probation, suspension, expulsion, or other appropriate and authorized actions. You will find the Student Code of Conduct in the current Valencia Student Handbook.

Withdrawal Policy

Students may withdraw in Atlas and receive a W if withdrawn by Nov. 1st, 2013. After this date students cannot withdraw. Students will not be withdrawn by this professor (except as a no-show for failure to attend any class session before Sep. 11th, 2013). Students with excessive absences will receive the appropriate grade earned.

Academic Integrity

Preparation and Plagiarism

I commit to arriving to class prepared to guide you in activities and discussions that will enrich your understanding of course content and improve your critical thinking capacities. To ensure maximum learning you should commit to arriving to class on time having completed the assigned readings and ready to ask for clarification of difficult ideas.

All academic and creative writing is considered independent work. Students may seek the assistance of peers or tutors only for organization of ideas, spelling, grammar, and correct MLA format. Consider scheduling a writing center consultation.

http://www.valenciacollege.edu/east/academicsuccess/cap/individualconsultations.cfm

Students must include parenthetical citations after any use of words or ideas that are not their own. Students may not use material prepared for another course without consent from both instructors. Any instances of academic dishonesty will be dealt with at the professor’s discretion resulting in consequences as severe as failure of the assignment or failure in the course. Plagiarism in academic writing assignments will result in additional requirements for all future assignments including, but not limited to, required writing in the testing center and use of writing consultants in the Academic Success Center. During quizzes and exams students may not leave the room, attempt communication with other students, cause any disturbance, or attempt the use of notes or other materials.

Assessment

College-wide and for course improvement

As part of a research project focused on student learning outcomes, student work will be collected from students enrolled in this course.

Your instructor may include an article or excerpt of work that you have completed during the course of the semester. Your identification will be removed from the document so as to preserve your anonymity and confidentiality. The results will be used to assess the learning activities and internationalized outcomes, not as an assessment of you as an individual student. The use of your work as part of this assessment process is completely separate from its use as an assignment that contributes to your class grade. The numerical data collected and reported during the assessment process will not be connected back to you. In any sort of report your instructor might publish, she will not include any information that will make it possible to identify you.

In addition, your instructor maintains digital and paper files of student work submitted to be used as samples within future sections of this course as well as in college-wide initiatives. The use of your work as a sample will have no effect upon your class average or final course grade. Any sort of report or representation of your work will not include any information that will make it possible to identify you. If you prefer your work never be used as a sample by this instructor, simply ask your instructor not to use stored files created by you.
